Charlotta Falvin nominated to the Board of Doro AB

Since 2006, Charlotta Falvin has been President of TAT, The Astonishing Tribe AB, a leading Swedish company in the area of software development and design for the mobile phone segment. Since 2010, TAT has been part of Canadian group Research in Motion Limited (RIM), which manufactures BlackBerry devices. Charlotta Falvin has extensive experience from several leading positions within Axis Communications AB, including as Senior Vice President, Sales and Operations. She holds a degree in international business administration from the School of Economics and Management at Lund University.

In addition to her board assignment at Doro AB, Charlotta Falvin is a member of the boards of Axis Communications AB, Anoto AB and the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Southern Sweden.

Charlotta Falvin, who is 44 years old, does not currently own any shares in Doro AB. As a board member, she will be independent in relation to the major owners of Doro AB as well as in relation to Doro AB itself. Pending approval by the Annual General Meeting, she will become a member of the Board of Doro AB as of July 2011 as other commitments prevent her from starting before that time.

"With her broad international experience of business development in the technology sector, and particularly in the mobile segment, Charlotta Falvin will contribute with significant expertise to the work of the Board. In recent years, she has, through her position at TAT, gained a unique insight into how mobile telecom devices can be successfully niched by means of user-friendly interfaces. In our view, her successful experience in generating value in the companies where she has worked will support Doro's continued growth in the area of telecom products for seniors. This will help us further develop Doro's Care strategy," says Bo Kastensson, member of Doro's Nomination Committee and Chairman of the Board.

Others nominated to the Board are Bo Kastensson, Karin Moberg, Jonas Mårtensson and Jérôme Arnaud, all of whom are already members of the Board of Doro AB. Peter Blom, who has been a member of the Board of Doro AB since 2008 has declined re-election.
